Mai Mai Jewels has combined the use of these semi-precious stones and match them with beautiful hand carved flowers in Jade, Cherry Quartz, Chalcedony, Aventurine and Aqua Quartz.

In line with current trends for natural and floral inspired designs, Mai Mai jewels semi precious carved flower jewellery and natural jewellery provides a style statement and freshwater pearls have also been used with carved river shell flowers in silvery grey and cream to soft pink tones.

Says Diane Calliste, founding designer "we were struck by the beauty of the hand carved flowers and have teamed the flowers with faceted semi precious beads. What has resulted is the flower corsage necklaces and eye catching double wrap flower bracelets made from faceted stones and pearls. River shell flowers have also been used and they are especially pretty teamed with deep purple Amethyst stone".

The ethos is using natural materials and our large beaded bracelets and lariat necklaces in Amazonite, White Jade, Black Fossil Jasper, Smokey Quartz, Black Onyx and Malaysian black Jade is representative of this. "Semi precious jewellery provides a warmth that can be missing from jewellery made with metal. It feels of the earth and the hues of the stones are truly representative of the colours and textures available naturally" says Diane.
